PROPRIETORS OF THE BEE HIVE

A WOMAN'S WORK.

When housewifery things are cleared away

The same old problem's rising, For she again sits down to think

Of something appetizing. The dinner she must soon prepare,

Or give the cook directions, And great is the relief she feels

When she has made selections. When dinner things are cleared away

The problem that is upper, Is just the same with one word changed—

"What can I get for supper?" She wants to give them something new,

And long is meditation, Till choice is made, and then begins

The work of preparation. When supper things are cleared away

Again her mind is worried, For then she thinks of breakfast time,

When meals are often hurried. She ponders o'er it long until

The question is decided, Then hasties round till she makes sure

That everything's provided. That "woman's work is never done"

Has often been disputed, But that she's worried is a fact,

The worry over what to eat Is greatest of these questions,

And glad she'd be if someone else Would make the most suggestions.

No one knows the unbearable torture one undergoes from piles unless they are cured. A dose or two of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets will correct these disorders and cure the headache. Sold by J. J. Wood & Son.

TWO IN THREE.

Were Surprised—The Up-To-Dates Replaced By the Out-of-Dates.

The Inspectors at New Orleans have been notified that on the night of February 27 the Louisiana Troubadour was founded at Sam's Light, about four miles above Red River Landing. The Troubadour was being towed up to Louisville by the steamer Boaz, when she was struck by a strong gust of wind and the boat was overturned, losing, but no lives were lost. The Troubadour, which was owned by Captain Gaches and Captain R. E. Price, was valued at $15,000, but for what amount insured, if any, was not mentioned in report. She was built at Friendly, Va., in 1891 and was well known along the Ohio and Mississippi rivers and their tributaries.

The three Pittsburgh rivers remain almost stationary, and from points where a falling stage is reported the drop has been very slight. In the harbor the marks on the gauge have remained at the 9-foot mark for the past two days, and the Ohio falling slightly shows 9.9 feet. A drop of 1.2 feet is reported from Herr's Island in the Allegheny, with the reading on the gauge 9.5 feet. Rivermen are of the opinion that the present stage will continue for a day or two at least, and by that time the weather bureau predicts rain. The shortage of empties, which has been felt nearly all season, has never affected the river coal combine more than at present. The ice has caused the boats to drop their tow on the Northward trip, and though the mines could easily put on enough coal to keep all the boats running, the difficulty in providing empties has caused much inconvenience and delay. Only 28,000 bushels of coal have been started South during the past two days.

When children have earache, saturate a piece of cotton with Ballard's Kidney and Bladder Pills and place it in the ear. It will stop the pain quickly. Price, 25 and 50 cents. J. J. Wood & Son.

LIBERAL REWARD.

Lost, on Saturday morning, between East end of carline and Short street, on court street, or on Third between Court and Market, a Diamond Sign, mounted. Liberal reward if returned to this office.

Fresh Oysters at Roper's.

Miss Phyllis Gill has returned to school at Haywood Seminary, after spending housed up for several weeks with measles.

No wonder, Joe Hudgins, aged 50, dropped dead while plowing near Cynthiana. He was the father of twenty-four children.

What a funny man! Avery Burgess, Capisle. Pocket-book. $10. Red. Returned. N.Y.

Going Down Hill.

People suffering from kidney disease find a gradual but steady loss of vitality. The kidneys are the filters of the body. If they are clogged, the blood is impure, and the system is out of order. J. J. Wood & Son and Armstrong & Co.

The Avalon will pass down tonight from Pontorey.

The Keystone State will pass up tonight for Pittsburgh.

The E. R. Andrews with a big tow of Kanawha coal will pass down today for Cincinnati.

The Lizzie Ray for Charleston and Kanawha river points will pass up tonight, returning Sunday morning.

Captain George Ray is having the steamer Grand repaired up and put in good shape, presumably for the Kanawha river trade. It is a splendid one.

Peekinpugh, Harrison & Co. of Alton, Ind., loaded a barge with wagons, carts and agricultural implements for the lower Mississippi, in what is known as the Sugar Coast. The barge is being loaded down in charge of Captain Joe Heaton, and shows that business is beginning to boom.

It was reported in Pittsburgh that the cargo of coal sunk recently by the Robert Jenkins in the Ohio river opposite Legionville, Ohio, was an obstruction to navigation. Joseph Ledlie of Davis Island then left immediately for the lower Mississippi, in what is known as the Sugar Coast. The barge is being loaded down in charge of Captain Joe Heaton, and shows that business is beginning to boom.

Great interest has been manifested in the steamer excursion business between Cincinnati and Louisville. Last year the City of Pittsburgh inaugurated the daylight excursion business between Cincinnati and Louisville, and the scheme proved very successful. This year she will be augmented by the Island Queen, the finest excursion steamer ever built in America, and it is expected that thousands of persons will make the trip one or more times who could not be induced to go at any other time of year or upon any other boats. Both boats are justly popular.

LIBERAL REWARD.

Lost, on Saturday morning, between East end of carline and Short street, on court street, or on Third between Court and Market, a Diamond Sign, mounted. Liberal reward if returned to this office.

The K. of P. Lodge at Ripley will celebrate its twenty-fifth anniversary on the 8th of April.

John M. Cole, aged 18, and Miss Lee Colegrove, aged 16, were married in Greenup. There'll be no "hot times" in that household.

The Rev. J. W. Porter of the Baptist Church will deliver a lecture under the auspices of the K. of P.'s at the M. E. Church, South, at Germantown next Sunday evening at 7 o'clock.

Couldn't help getting a cold never cure it; but carrying home a bottle of Ballard's Kidney and Bladder Pills, and using it directed, will cure the worst kind of cold or cough. Price, 25 and 50 cents. J. J. Wood & Son.

The Sheriff of Harrison county yesterday took eight prisoners to Lexington, where they will remain until it is settled who is who at Frankfort, when they will be removed to the Penitentiary.

Preparations have already begun for the commencement exercises of the Flemingsburg High School, which will be held May 17th. The graduating class is composed of six young ladies and ten young men.

A Good Cough Medicine for Children.

"I have no hesitancy in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says F. P. Moran, a well-known and popular lawyer of Petersburg, Va. "We have given it to our children when troubled with bad cough, whooping cough, and it has always given satisfaction. It was recommended to me by a druggist as the best cough medicine for children, and it certainly is a most effective and harmless drug." Sold by J. J. Wood & Son.

Question Answered.

Yes, August Pills will have the largest sale of any medicine in the United States. Your doctor and your mother never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, or Heart Failure, etc. They used August Pills to cure the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the system, and that is what they took when feeling dull and lost with indigestion and other ills. You only need a few cases of August Pills, and you will see the value of this medicine in a very serious matter with you. For sale by J. C. Finner.

Kentucky's Progress Set Back By Present Dire Events.

London-Letter Writing Post.

The situation in Kentucky is one certain to attract attention away from home. It is without precedent. No where else has a conspiracy so open and so violent been organized and carried unchecked by law to such lengths as the Goebel conspiracy in Kentucky. In the South social order was overthrown in the Civil War, and by outside influences an alien Government was established. That Government was overthrown after a desperate conflict, in which wrong was done and lies written into the whole system of affairs for which the penalty was yet to be paid.

Kentucky was the theater of war, but slavery was passing when the war opened. Emancipation did not cause a revolution here, and Negro suffrage did not make the least change in the control of our state Government.

The Goebel dynasty is a new growth; it is the product of new conditions. It suddenly develops strength sufficient to control a great party. Its apostles, preaching law and intolerance, themselves defy the law, threaten the law-abiding citizen and deny that their political opponents have any rights they are bound to respect. All the elements of evil are drawn as by a rule of life into one organization, and society finds its very foundations shaken by this new foe.

One outrage has followed another so promptly that our own people fail yet to realize the vast injury done to this state. Outside of Kentucky the whole Nation rejoices in an era of unexampled prosperity. Even the South, the stricken South, finds its great staple making it rich; its mills multiplying, and the whole world waiting its coal and iron.

In Kentucky we hear nothing of new enterprises. We have great coal fields, but capital avoids them. We have ideal locations for furnaces, but no new stacks arise. The time has come for a new advance in prosperity in our mountain counties, but the political forces in the ascendancy in Kentucky are making a war of extermination against all those things that make for a Nation's greatness and glory. These are not idle words; here is a paragraph from a friendly critic and a near neighbor, The Memphis Commercial-Appeal:

"The Goebel Law and the shocking tragedy that followed it as an avenging Nemesis has set the dial of Kentucky's progress back to sunny hours. A blow at the material progress of the grand old state has produced a wound that is destined not soon to heal. Mad partisanship, unbridled ambition and unbridled lust for power have done their worst, and the friends of Kentucky can only hope that the bitter cup may pass away, and that the exiled spirit of fairness and good citizenship may be induced to return. Normal conditions can be permanently restored only by doing justice to all parties and factions, condemning the wrong done by each and exalting the virtue inherent in each."

Never was there a louder call to the patriotic people of any country than in

"THE HEART OF MARYLAND."

Mr. David Belasco's company will play an engagement at the Washington Opera-house on tomorrow night in the most international success, "The Heart of Maryland," in which all the members of the company have opportunities of displaying their artistic resources. The play is realistic throughout by its romantic episode of love in all its phases. The great beauty scene is the most realistic climax yet given in a dramatic work. At the escape of her lover, who has been sentenced to the death of a spy, the heroine rushes up the dark, winding staircase of the old battery, and appealing out from the platform and grasping the clapper ways back and forth, preventing the bell from ringing, and by this daring act saves the man she loves from capture and death. It is a sight that thrills even the heart of the most cynical of playgoers. Seats now on sale at Nelson's.

made daily to the self-respecting liberty-loving people of Kentucky. We do not underestimate the power of the political combination bent on usurpation and nullification, and the overthrow of representative Government in Kentucky, but "our faith is great in time and that which shapes it to some perfect end," great in time, and in the men of Kentucky able to master time and circumstances. There must awake a new spirit among us; a singleness of purpose, a loyal devotion to all those qualities of citizenship for which Kentucky stands, and a renewed determination to not let one inch to the foes of freedom.

Justice first; then peace and prosperity. We cannot have peace founded in injustice, and we cannot have prosperity until we have peace again and established order.

To the men with most at stake in Kentucky we make our appeal; to the men who have here established themselves and here built their homes; to the men and women with children growing to womanhood and manhood we appeal. Not for party; now party ends and aims shrivel up into nothingness at a time like this. Not for this man or that, but for the future of Kentucky. There is no matter that comes so near home to us. There is nothing worth having, nothing worth doing in a community such as Kentucky has been since the riot broke out at the Music Hall Convention. Give something of your time and thought to these public questions. Rest not until justice is again enthroned in law, and no man need fear wrong or violence, and all men stand equal before the bar and at the ballot-box.
